CHOIRS WERE AUGMENTED.

The Rev. S. T. Westhafer Delivers an Interesting Talk on His Travels in the Holy Land.

Christmas services were held, and the principal feature was the music. All the choirs were augmented for the ocship looked beautiful in decorations of evergreen in palms, holly and mistletoe In some of the churches the music was elaborate, and the attendance in every case was unusually large. The choirs had been rehearsing diligently for the services yesterday, and they put forth

There was public worship at both the morning and evening services at Fourth street, and they were largely attended. In the evening the pastor, Rev. S. T. Westhafer, delivered two very interesting five-minute talks on The Manger in Which Christ Lay as "From Jerusalem to Bothlehem in a Carriage," The latter was especially interesting. Mr. Westhafer spent the whole of last March in the hely land, and rode from Jerusalem to Bayreuth a distance of 300 miles on horseback. There were seventeen in the party, and they went by the way of the Sea of Gallice and Damascus. They carried ten tents, eight living tent. They had nineteen saddle horses and forty-five pack mules and donkeys Thirty-six servants accompanied the

Only an Outline.

Mr. Westhafer began his talk by saying that the five minutes allotted him ould permit but the barest outline of the places passed through. "We took a carriage at the Jaffa gate, with Jews for drivers, and proceeded across the valley of Gihon. This was near the place where Solomon was anointed Thence we passed across the hill of Evil Counsel, where the enemies of Christ met to devise means by which they might put Him to death. Our way there lay across the plain of Repham, where the Philistines spread themselves out a second time to fight against David.

"We next passed hard by the aque duct bullt by Solomon to carry water to Mt. Mariah, where we came to the carriages, and, walking down a slight a little door in the hillside that looked ing it our guide found it locked, but the laws in that country are of such a nature that one can break a lock with and trouble, broke through the door by drawing a staple. We descended a flight of about twenty steps, and stood on a pinnacle in an underground cave. Nearby there bubbled up a spring that ran a stream of water about one and onehalf feet in diameter. This spring, we were told, was discovered by Soloman, who conveyed the water underground from some distance, and brought it to the surface. Just below the place where the water came out of the earth he constructed three immense pools, one below the other, each resembling hill above Wheeling. From these pools he conducted the water by means of an underground pipe three Roman miles to the temple and supplied water to the brazen sea, which rested on the

On the Journey.

We returned to our carriages and proceeded south, passing the tomb of Rachael, and near which there is in a large smooth stone a depression about the size of a man's body. Here the Greeks said Elijah slept one day when he fled from Jezebel, and left in the stone the marks of his body.

"We then passed the site of ancien Etam, where Sampson came to hide from the Philistines. Near this place is the sight of Soloman's gardens, de-scribed in detail by Josephus, and where Soloman frequently resorted in his chariot. A little farther on we came in sight of the hill top, a little to the right upon which the village of Tekoa, the home of Amos, the Prophet formerly stood. By this road we entered Bethlehem from the northwest. It is a town built of white stone and stands on the top of a ridge in the shape of a half moon, facing the northeast. It has a population of about 6,090. Here Boaz lived. Here Naomi came with her daughter-in-law, Ruth. Here Jesie lived, and her son, David, was born, and while yet a shepherd boy was anointed to be king of Israel, and here a greater than David, a Christ, the Son of the living God, was born, and the angel of God said unto the shepherd, 'Fear not, for unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

Saturday evening, the general com mittee in charge of the arrangements for the celebration of the incoming of the New Year and New Century, met at the city building, with Chairman John Waterhouse, Mayor Sweeney, C. H. Watkins, jr., Dr. C. A. Wingerter and

Charles Horstmann present.

Owing to the probable inclemency of the weather it was decided to drop the proposed street demonstration and confroposed street demonstration and con-fine the celebration to a noisy welcom-ing of the incoming year and century by the ringing of bells, blowing of, whisties and firing of cannon between 12 and 1 o'clock on the morning of January 1.

Proclamation by the Mayor.

Mayor Sweeney was requested and consented to issue a proclamation, calling upon all Wheeling and Ohio-side manufacturers to have their factory whistles blown during the hour between of education to have the school bells rung; asking the churches to do likerung; asking the churches to do like-wise; requesting the railroads and steamboats to add their quota to the blast of steam—in fact, calling upon the people generally to "let loose" with ev-ery noise making devise within reach. After having decided to do away with the parade, the committee voted to secure a granite tablet to be piaced at the public square, and to be suitably inscribed—commemorative of the ad-vent of the new year and century. Mesers. Watkins and Wingerter were named a sub-committee on speakers. named a sub-committee on speakers There will be two short addresses, one

JOE BLACKBURN AT HOME.

Powers That be Non-Committal on Supreme Court Clerkship.

State Food and Dairy Commission E. Blackburn was in Bellaire Saturday, having stopped off on his way home from Washington City, where he had been arranging for the meeting of the national pure food congress, of which he is president. Mr. Blackburn also took up the matter of a candidate for clerk of the supreme court of Ohio, with the powers that be, and discovered that the powers are not now giving much attention to such things, but when pressed indicate that they have hought about the personnel of the state ticket. Senator Hanna disclaims any further interest in the matter than that a good ticket should be made and Sena-tor Foraker occupies the dignified position the situation warrants by saying that "since all elements of one party are united for my re-election it would be rank impertinence for me to meddle with any other part of the ticket they will make, and I shall not do so."
